International Race Relations Day – Monday 21 March 2022

10:30AM – 12:30PM (NZT)

(1 HOUR BREAK)

1:30PM – 3:30PM (NZT)

Join us for an in-depth look at why truth is necessary for a collective understanding of racial equity in Aotearoa, through a protocol for healthy and productive conversations about race and racism.

Race Relations Commissioner Meng Foon joins our call to rangatira and rangatahi, tangata whenua and tangata Tiriti to celebrate, reflect and honour the legacy of social justice leaders and anti-racism movements. We invite you to be inspired by young, emerging thought leaders and creatives who 'rise up' to speak a unified reality into existence.

Co-hosted by cultural re-programmer Precious Clark as MC, join us online for engaging kōrero from Oscar® Nominee Chelsea Winstanley, award-winning internationally recognised author Glenn Singleton, Arts Laureate Moss Te Ururangi Patterson, and wahine rangatira Ripeka Evans. This kōrero session includes a host of special guest speakers for an intergenerational conscious-raising experience of keynotes and dynamic panel discussions – Truth Spoken, Truth Heard and Mana Wāhine: Honouring our Matriarchs – interwoven with spoken word and delectable vocal performances, making this a day you won't want to miss.
